Venezuela and Her Troubles

LIKE most South American republics, Venezuela is usually in the throes of something. If she doesn't have a revolution on hand at home, she is having trouble with a war lord or is twisting a lion's tail. Just at present she has the doubtful enjoyment of all three. Owing to expensive revolutions, a chronic condition of poverty and a somewhat reckless and impulsive president the country is unable and unwilling to pay the claims various powers of Europe have presented for damages to the property of their citizens. The result is that these powers, weary of waiting, are endeavoring by force of arms to collect the amounts due or to punish Venezuela for her neglect to settle.

In this crisis Venezuela is somewhat complacent because she is pretty well informed concerning the Monroe doctrine and is confident that if England, Germany and the other powers go far enough in their aggressions they will find themselves face to face with the United States government. President Castro has not forgotten the strenuous days of 1895 when England refused to arbitrate the boundary dispute with his country and President Cleveland's bellicose message caused Great Britain to reverse her position and arbitrate.

Venezuela is one of the most remarkable and interesting countries in the world. Owing to her latitude and the height of her mountains she has a climate that ranges through all the degrees of temperature from torrid to arctic. The population is about 2,500,000 and consists in the main of Caribs, or native Indians; negroes and mixed races. Of the total population but 1 per cent is white, and that is mostly grouped in three cities, the principal one of which is Caracas, the capital.

Many of the Caribs are lake dwellers and inhabit houses elevated on piles above the surface of the lakes.

If it is true that every boy in the United States aspires to be president, the same is equally true of Venezuela. The people dearly love a revolution, dearly love to overturn one president—who is usually a dictator—and seat another in his place. The country is full of scheming politicians and soldiers of fortune, and the result is that there is hardly a time when a revolution is not either in progress or being fomented.

For years past, too, Venezuela and her neighbor, Colombia, have been at odds, and war has been repeatedly threatened. Of late the tension has been particularly keen because Castro has been ambitious to unite Venezuela, Colombia, Ecuador and one or two other countries in a grand confederation to be called the United States of South America and become president of the new aggregation of states.

The Venezuelans have so many troubles that it is a relief to turn to the more pleasing aspects of their daily life.

Despite their fondness for revolution—which possibly is due to abuse of power by some of their presidents—the Venezuelans are the most courteous people that can be imagined. Impoliteness is unpardonable. The clerk with whom you deal over his counter expresses his wish that you may live long and prosper and thanks you gratefully for giving him the pleasure of showing his goods, whether you purchase anything or not. When a gentleman meets a lady, he she his sweet-heart or his grandmother, he always says he "is lying at her feet," and he would rather be shot than be guilty of passing before her. They are not the semibarbarians which some people in the northern continent suppose. They have accomplishments which ought to make the rest of America ashamed. Usually they are able to speak three or four languages, have refined taste in art and music, and, while they lack ingenuity and usually do things in the hardest way, they are nevertheless possessed of the keenest perceptive faculties and almost seem to read your thoughts. It is not difficult to make known your wants even if you cannot understand a word of their language. They do not allow smoking in the street cars and public places, as in Mexico and Havana, and, although it is the privilege of the masculine gender to stare at the feminine with all the eyes they have, the men are never rude and beg the pardon of a beggar when they refuse to give him alms.

They always put the locks upon the wrong door and wrong side up. When they build a house, it seems as if they studied the most difficult mode of construction. They erect solid walls first and then chisel out places for the timbers to rest upon. There are no stoves or chimneys, and charcoal is the only fuel. Gas is produced at $4.50 per thousand feet from American coal, which costs $20 a ton. There is no glass in the windows, but a grating of iron bars keeps out intruders, and heavy wooden shutters keep out the air and light. Such blinds are common in North America would be the most admirable protection in this country, but no one has ever introduced them, and the people will continue to swelter behind solid shutters until the end of time.

The rooms of houses are not plastered, but the joists are all exposed. The floors are of tile, and gaudy paper is pasted upon the walls of cement and stone. In the court of every house are the most beautiful flowers. Tuberoses grow in great trees, and the oleander is as common as the lilac in New England. The parks look like the botanical gardens of the north and in the evening are always thronged with gentlemen and ladies until a late hour.

The police regulations are very strict. The other day a child was kidnapped in Caracas by a man in a hack. Every coach driver in the city was thrown into prison, and not a wheel was turned until the child was recovered. Drunken men are never seen in the streets. To become intoxicated is to invite yourself to work ten or twenty days in the chain gang, and to see the way in which prisoners are treated is an inducement to be temperate.

Carson admitted that he knew it was against the rules of the company to cancel a train order without sending a substitute for it, but said that the dispatcher was his superior officer, and he disliked to question his order or dispute his authority to take this action. Dispatcher Kerr's order book in the local Grand Trunk office does not show that the order was "busted" or cancelled as Carson claims. According to the book it was still in force and should have been delivered to the conductor of the express. Kerr has not made any statement even to the railroad officials and will not until he takes the stand at the inquest.

Division Superintendent George G. Jones of Toronto says that the rule against cancelling train orders is the strictest in the company's code. "I do not believe," he said, "that it has been violated since the standard dispatching rules went into effect. Dispatcher Kerr is one of the best and most efficient dispatchers in our service. He is the operator who accompanied the train bearing the Duke and Duchess of York on the royal tour of Canada a year ago. I have every confidence in him."

Other Grand Trunk officials who were present also expressed their confidence in Kerr. Coroner Dr. Harvey of Lambton county began the inquest at Wyoming today.

TWENTY-EIGHT KILLED

Friday Night's Collision Develops Into One of the Worst Railway Disasters In Years.

The Operator Who Is Blamed Says He Followed Orders of the Dispatcher.

London, Ont., Dec. 29.—There have been no later deaths among the persons injured in Friday night's collision at Wanstead on the Sarnia branch of the Grand Trunk railroad between Pacific express No. 5, westbound, and an eastbound freight in which twenty-eight persons lost their lives and thirty others were injured. At Victoria hospital the information is given out that while several of the injured are still in a serious condition, it is expected that all will recover. The body of Fireman Ricketts of the express train which was at first believed to be buried under the wrecked engines, was found Sunday covered with snow in the ditch beside the track. One arm was completely torn off and the body was otherwise mangled. Death must have been instantaneous. It is believed that the body was thrown clear of the engine and into the deep snow in the ditch where in storm and darkness the wreckers failed to find it Friday night. Snow fell rapidly all that night, so that Ricketts' body was completely covered at daylight and was not found until Sunday. One of the men working at the wreck noticed a little mound in the ditch and investigation showed Ricketts' body under the snow. There is but one unidentified body at the morgue here, that of a woman who was ticketed from Toronto to Duluth.

Andrew Carson, the operator at Watford, the first station east of the wreck, whose failure to deliver orders to Conductor McAniff of the Pacific express to pass the freight at Wanstead is said by the Grand Trunk officials to have caused the wreck, Sunday afternoon made his first statement since the wreck. He says he received the order for No. 5, the express, to pass the freight at Wanstead at 9:48 o'clock, but declares positively that a few minutes later Dispatcher J. G. Kerr at London called him and ordered him to "bust" or cancel the order. He said:

"About 9:45, after calling Wyoming and ascertaining that the freight was there, the dispatcher called me rapidly a half dozen times. When I answered on the wire he told me to 'bust' this order. I wrote 'bust it' across the order just as No. 5 was coming in. Conductor McAniff came in and asked me what the order board was out against him for. I told him that we had had an order for him but the dispatcher had 'busted' it. He asked me to hurry and write him a clearance order, which I did. After the train had started and was out of my reach the dispatcher learned that the freight had left Wyoming. I told him I could not stop No. 5, as it had left. He immediately began calling Kings Court Junction, the station between Watford and Wanstead, on the railroad wire, and I tried to raise them on a commercial wire. We both failed to do this, however, until after the express had passed the junction."

Carson admitted that he knew it was against the rules of the company to cancel a train order without sending a substitute for it, but said that the dispatcher was his superior officer, and he disliked to question his order or dispute his authority to take this action. Dispatcher Kerr's order book in the local Grand Trunk office does not show that the order was "busted" or cancelled as Carson claims. According to the book it was still in force and should have been delivered to the conductor of the express. Kerr has not made any statement even to the railroad officials and will not until he takes the stand at the inquest.

Division Superintendent George G. Jones of Toronto says that the rule against cancelling train orders is the strictest in the company's code. "I do not believe," he said, "that it has been violated since the standard dispatching rules went into effect. Dispatcher Kerr is one of the best and most efficient dispatchers in our service. He is the operator who accompanied the train bearing the Duke and Duchess of York on the royal tour of Canada a year ago. I have every confidence in him."

Other Grand Trunk officials who were present also expressed their confidence in Kerr. Coroner Dr. Harvey of Lambton county began the inquest at Wyoming today.

ORIENTAL ADVICES

Came By Steam But Are None the Less Interesting.

Victoria, B. C., Dec. 29.—News was brought by the steamer Tartar which arrived Sunday of a disaster in the Malacca straits, as a result of which sixty lives were lost. The Tokio Ashi publishes a telegram from Hong Kong stating that the steamer Bunsang was in collision with the steamer Kiang-yang in the Malacca straits and the Kiang-yang was sunk, sixty sailors and passengers being missing.

Dispatches from Hakodate report that an outbreak of fire occurred on board the Iwanaki Steamship company's steamer Hokun Maru, off the coast of Su Tsu on Dec. 3 and the vessel was sunk, eighteen of the crew losing their lives.

The Japanese sealers had a profitable season, although four vessels of the fleet of nineteen were lost, three of them, it is believed, with all on board, although there were rumors that the men of one, the Tanya Maru, had been seized by the Russians.

Correspondence received from Yokohama by the steamer Tartar includes details of a horrible baby farming conspiracy in Osaka. An elderly woman, her married daughter, husband, and two others have been arrested for infanticide, and it is learned that since they started operations this year 300 children were killed.

The Japanese Times has an account of a Japanese of Koshi having been married to a corpse. The bride-elect committed suicide on the eve of her marriage. The body was recovered, and at the request of the dead girl's parents the ceremony took place between the living and dead.

According to advices received by the same steamer, Hunan correspondents of the Shanghai papers send particulars regarding the execution of Major Liu, the Chen Chou military officer who refused to protect the murdered missionaries, Bruce and Lewis, from the mob, and whose execution was demanded by the British government and China forced to accede after a naval demonstration at Hankow. The condemned man was removed from the yamen in a chair, after being taken before the governor and British representatives to a place outside the city walls, where he was beheaded. He was clad in his official robes. The execution was witnessed by a large number of foreigners from the tower over the city gate. After the execution the remains were wrapped in a red wrapper by the magistrates, and all day a continual line of people wept bitterly by the coffin.

Armistice Between Government and Revolutionists Expires and the Latter Break Out Again.

Venezuela Has Decided to Back Down On Its Attitude Toward Powers.

Willemstad, Curacao, Dec. 29.—The Venezuelan revolutionists have resumed active hostilities against President Castro. There occurred Saturday a lively engagement between 1,200 revolutionists under General Riera and government forces at Cuyararo in the vicinity of Coro. Details of the engagement are lacking, but it is known here that the revolutionists had artillery. The government forces were commanded by General Referendo Castillo. General Riera retained his position. The armistice between the government and the revolutionists has just expired.

TALKING IT OVER

Minister Bowen Conveys Conclusion to Venezuelan Government.

Caracas, Dec. 29.—United States Minister Bowen and Lopez Baralt, Venezuelan minister of foreign affairs, have held a long conference here. Mr. Bowen, obeying instructions from Washington, conveyed to Senor Baralt President Roosevelt's refusal to act as arbitrator in the Venezuelan difficulty. He recommended that the matter be taken to the international peace court at The Hague, which had been expressly organized to consider questions in which the honor of a country or the disposition of territory were not concerned. He suggested the organization of a commission to sit in Washington, the allied powers to be represented on this commission by their ambassadors to the United States and Venezuela by a delegate. The commission is to sign a document setting forth the matters to be decided at The Hague court. Mr. Bowen said also that Germany would not press for an immediate payment and that she had agreed to accept a guarantee based on a percentage of the customs receipts.

As a result of this conference Senor Baralt telegraphed President Castro to return from La Victoria. The president will reach here today, and Venezuela's answer to the foregoing proposal will be given them. It is understood that Venezuela will make any concession, even abandoning her demand that her navy be returned. Through the Venezuelan delegates to the commission the Venezuelan government will ask that the blockade be lifted at once. Senor Baralt has expressed the desire that Mr. Bowen represent Venezuela on the commission; if Mr. Bowen cannot accept the post it is suggested in official circles that it be given to W. W. Russell, secretary to the American legation.

TURNED IT OVER

Venezuelan Muddle Is Now Off Uncle Sam's Hands.

Washington, Dec. 29.—The Venezuelan government is now in possession of the complete notes of Great Britain and Germany containing the various reservations made by those governments before the decision was reached that the issues between Venezuela and the European governments having claims against her should be referred to The Hague tribunal for arbitration. The United States having acted as an intermediary in the steps leading up to the acceptance of arbitration now turns over the Venezuelan government the formal work of completing the basis for a full hearing before The Hague. The notes were transmitted to the Venezuelan government through United States Minister Bowen at Caracas.

There are no new features to the situation here. Officials are hopeful that the governments interested will work harmoniously and conscientiously to reach an early and final solution of the trouble. The administration is anxious that there may be an amelioration of the blockade. It is certain this government will use every effort to have the blockade called off pending consideration of the questions at issue by The Hague tribunal for the double reason that its continuance is always a menace to peace and order, and because of the harmful effects on American shipping to Venezuelan ports. Just what the allied governments have determined upon in that regard it is difficult to say, as Secretary Hay uniformly has refused to make public their reservations and demands as a preliminary to arbitration feeling that such information should come from the governments themselves.

Is What Miners Will Make At Their Coming Convention.

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 29.—W. D. Ryan, secretary-treasurer of the United Mine Workers of Illinois, in a formal statement, says that the miners of the United States will make a demand for a material increase in wages at the national convention at Indianapolis on Jan. 19. Mr. Ryan says that the operators are receiving a larger price for coal than ever before and they cannot make the excuse that the mines are not paying expenses.

Mr. Ryan says that the convention will produce figures to show the total cost of mining a ton of coal and give the public an idea of the profit being reaped by the operators. Mr. Ryan will attend the convention and no doubt lead the fight for higher wages.

Travelers Elect Officers.

Contest For Millions.

Colorado Springs, Col., Dec. 29.—The real legal battle for the Stratton millions began today when the hearing on the admission of the will of W. S. Stratton to probate came up in the county court. Prominent lawyers from all over the state, including United States Senator Patterson, are in the city and the prospects are that the hearing will be long drawn out. The protest against the admission of the will to probate was one of the first steps taken by the attorneys for I. Harry Stratton, the contestant of the will, and it was based upon numerous grounds. Young Stratton and his bride from Oshkosh, Wis., are present at the hearing.

Nervous Girl's Mistake.

Gainesboro, Tenn., Dec. 29.—While attempting to cross Cumberland river near here in a canoe Miss Verdi Rich, Miss Hattie Rose and Walter Rich were drowned, while Rufus Bailey and Alfred Crowder had narrow escapes. The canoe was overcrowded and when the current of the swollen stream struck it the frail craft swerved and rocked. One of the frightened girls jumped into the water, causing the canoe to capsize and throwing all of the occupants into the river.

An Actress' Suicide.

Philadelphia, Dec. 29.—Dollie Earl, an actress who Saturday night committed suicide in her dressing room at a burlesque theater here, was Sunday identified as Dollie Allen, daughter of Mrs. T. J. Allen of Rochester, N. Y. The identification was made by Mrs. F. Meyers of this city, who said she had known the actress since childhood. Mrs. Meyers stated also that Miss Allen was married to a Mr. Bow-smith, a New York business man.

Funeral of Nate Salsbury.

12 Minutes for Lunch.

That is the average time spent in a large city restaurant by three thousand lunchers. It takes three hours to digest a fresh egg soft boiled; three hours to digest a boiled apple dumpling; three hours to digest fresh roast beef. In fact, three hours is about the time required to digest the average twelve minute lunch. The object of the hasty lunch is to let the busy man get back to his office work. But when the brain is active, the stomach is inactive for lack of necessary blood. The natural consequence is indigestion, and indigestion opens the door to many diseases.

Indigestion is cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, and enables the perfect digestion and assimilation of food.

"It is with heartfelt gratitude that I send this testimonial which I wish you to publish with my name and address," writes Mr. Willis Seaman of Washingtonville, Orange Co., N. Y. "I had stomach trouble from childhood and suffered with it more or less as I grew up. At the age of 26 I was broken down with dyspepsia. My suffering was terrible. Could not eat without distress. Could only eat a few certain things and was not able to work half the time. Every thing I tried only gave me temporary relief. My wife finally persuaded me to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Pleasant Pellets.' I took six bottles of the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and two vials of Dr. Pierce's 'Pleasant Pellets.' I then felt so well that I stopped taking medicine. Several months have passed and I can do the hardest kind of work, can eat anything that is set before me and enjoy it. I am 27 years old and this is the first time I have ever been well."

Free. Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser in paper covers is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only, or 21 stamps for cloth-bound volume. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

SHERIFF DUDLEY, of Sullivan county, who permitted the lynching of a prisoner some time ago, and who under the statute was compelled to give up his office to the county coroner pending an investigation, will not be reinstated. Governor Durbin's decision in this matter will be approved by all the law abiding people of the state.

The proposed change of the route for the electric road between Seymour and Columbus so as to pass through Walesboro and Jonesville instead of Azalia and Reddington ought not to be considered. The change will not materially shorten the route and as a local road its benefits will be very much reduced. Both Seymour and Columbus now have railroad connections with Jonesville and intervening points, and a new road direct paralleling the Pennsylvania opens up a new territory to these cities, as would be the case should it pass through Azalia. The company will ask and doubtless get many favors from both cities and in locating the road the wishes of the cities should be heeded.

The story connecting State Chairman Goodrich with the alleged announcement of Congressman Hemenway for governor is the cheapest kind of political talk, and it goes without saying it is absolutely without foundation. In the first place Mr. Goodrich, being one of the most level headed chairmen the party has ever had, is too wise a leader to do things charged to him. Again if he really would like to see Mr. Hemenway the next republican nominee for governor there could scarcely have been fixed up a greater handicap than to have had the announcement made as it comes from Washington. Hemenway is one of the strongest men of the party, and southern Indiana is especially proud of him, and under ordinary circumstances his candidacy would be most formidable, but as a candidate standing for things which would breed factional troubles for the party sure and certain would be his defeat in the state convention. As a matter of course the whole story of Hemenway's alleged announcement in the manner and for the purpose stated is without foundation.

DIED.

GRUBER.—Rev. Joseph Gruber died at his home, about a mile east of Reddington at 4 o'clock, Sunday morning, Dec. 28. He had been in declining health for a long time and for several months he was almost helpless on account of rheumatism. Though everything possible was done to restore him to health he continued to grow worse until death came to his relief.

Rev. Joseph Gruber was born Dec. 8, 1833, near Circleville, Ohio. In 1865 he moved to a farm near Reddington in which vicinity he resided until his death. In 1859 he was married to Susan Easter, who with their two sons, Lyman and Harlan survives him. Rev. Gruber was a highly esteemed citizen and neighbor. He was a member of the Methodist church and a local preacher, often supplying for regular pastors and assisting them in meetings. He was also a faithful Sunday School worker.

Funeral Tuesday forenoon at 10:30 at Reddington, conducted by Rev. Charles Severinghaus, assisted by Rev. M. O. Robbins.

BUSH.—Mrs. Margaret Bush died at the home of her son, W. F. Bush, 218 East Fifth street, at 6:20 Sunday morning. She had been a patient sufferer a long time and had been bedfast for nine months. Last spring she came here to the home of her son from Indianapolis where she had been taking treatment for several months for cancer without relief.

Mrs. Bush was born in Pittsburg, Pa., March 15, 1840, and in early childhood came to Jackson county with her parents, Andrew Pfaffenberger and wife, who settled at Chestnut Ridge. In 1863 she was married to Frederick Bush. To them were born six children, three of whom, Will of this city, George, of Marion, and Fred, of Silver City, N. M., survive her. In 1876 her husband died leaving her to meet alone the struggles of life with her family of children. She moved to Seymour at once to educate and employ her children. In 1894 she moved to Bloomington in order that her sons, George and Fred, might attend Indiana University. In 1899 she went to Warsaw with George who was a teacher there, and from Warsaw went to Marion with him. In the beginning of her affliction she went to Indianapolis to seek the advantage of a specialist, but got little relief. So last spring she came to spend her last days with her son Will in this city. Her suffering was intense but she bore it all with christian fortitude. Mrs. Bush was a member of the German M. E. church. She was a good woman and was beloved by a large circle of friends.

Funeral at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon, conducted by Rev. J. F. Severinghaus, of Louisville, assisted by Rev. Chas. Severinghaus and Rev. P. R. Vest. Burial at Riverview.

ATKISSON.—Mrs. Laura Holmes Atkisson, wife of Cyrus J. Atkisson, died at the family home on north Poplar street, early Sunday morning. On Saturday she underwent a very difficult surgical operation, the surgeons removing a large tumor. She rallied after the operation but only for a short time. Death resulted between one and two o'clock Sunday morning. Mrs. Atkisson was born in 1857, her age being 45 years at the time of her death. She was a daughter of the late B. S. Holmes, who was a prominent resident of this land and Hamilton township. In 1873 she and Cyrus J. Atkisson were married. Two children, George L., of Evansville, and Mrs. Pearl DeGolyer, of this city, survive her. Mr. and Mrs. Atkisson became residents of Seymour in 1887. Mrs. Atkisson was a member of the Seymour Methodist church and took an active part in church work. She was held in high esteem by a wide circle of friends and acquaintances.

Funeral from the residence on north Poplar street at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, conducted by Dr. E. R. Vest, assisted by Elder Thos. Jones.

PERRY.—Hazel Perry, the eleven-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Perry, died at the family residence on West Fifth street, Monday morning, December 29, 1922, of scarlet fever and catarrhal fever. She had been sick about ten or twelve days. Funeral and burial Tuesday morning.

Improving Daily.
Glaze Bay, N. S., Dec. 29.—The Marconi station at Glaze Bay continues to maintain daily communication with Cornwall, with constantly increasing efficiency and facility. Marconi is still here, but will leave shortly for the Cape Cod station. In the meantime he is sending two or three messages by wireless telegraphy to Europe daily. Some of these dispatches are lengthy. One of the dispatches was directed to ex-Empress Eugenie.

After the Ladrone.
Manila, Dec. 29.—Governor Taft's energetic expeditions looking to the suppression of ladroneism have produced unusual activity in this direction. Numerous municipal presidents in the provinces of Cavite and Rizal are assisting the native constabulary in running down the bandits.

Vanderbilt's Condition.

HAWAIIAN FISHERMEN.

Hands and Teeth Play a Part in Capturing the Octopus.

The native fishermen of Hawaii, while an adept with the hook and line, does not scorn to use his hands to capture his prey when occasion arises. The bonito is the fish most generally caught with hook and line, and as the hook used is of mother of pearl, made from the shell of a mollusk now quite rare, which glistens with an iridescent similar to the shimmer from the scales of the smaller kinds of fish on which the bonito lives, no bait is needed. The barb of these hooks is of bone, and two tufts of hog's bristles attached at right angles to the barbed end-keep the inner side up, so that the hook lies flat on the surface of the sea. When a likely fishing ground has been reached, the fisherman, standing up in the canoe, casts out his line violently, so that the hook falls with a slap on the water and attracts the attention of the fish. The line and hook are then drawn rapidly toward the boat, as though it were a spoon, and the bonito, taking the hook to be a small fish, rises to it immediately. It is fortunate for the fisherman that he has to waste no time in baiting his hook, for this method of casting frightens the school, and the fish disappear within ten or fifteen minutes.

An ingenious plan by which very large fish are caught is by planting a long pole on the shore in such a position as to cause it to lean decidedly toward the water. On the top of this a bell is arranged so that it can swing clear of the top of the pole. A block and fall are also attached to the pole close to the top, and a long line, with baited hook at the end, is run through the block and allowed to float out to sea, the land end being tied in a slip-knot to the bottom of the pole. As soon as a fish is hooked its struggles cause the bell to ring, whereupon the fisherman runs to the pole, loosens the slip-knot and plays the fish until he has drowned it, when it is hauled ashore.

In fishing for octopuses the native dives to the bottom and with a stick pokes around in the small holes in which the octopus lives. When he touches one, it seizes the stick and allows him to draw it out of the hole. When he reaches the surface, the native grabs it with his hands and bites into the head, thus killing the animal.

FRUITS AND FLOWERS.

Do not let rubbish of any kind lie underneath the trees. It harbors vermin. A yard or lawn always looks barren without some ornamental trees and shrubs.

As an apple or pear orchard will last a lifetime, particular care must be taken in the selection of varieties. If currants and gooseberries are pruned in tree form, they will bear larger and finer fruit. Prune every year.

To have a good garden the land must be kept rich by liberal use of manure. During the winter is the best time to apply it. Nearly all house plants will be benefited by having the blossoms that appear immediately after planting in pots pruned off. Let the plant get well established before flowering.

The rose is a hearty feeder and will therefore bear annual manuring, but only well rotted and thoroughly fined manure should be used, taking care to work it well into the soil early in the winter.

People Who Cannot Make Fires.
The Papuans of the Malay coast of New Guinea are still in the most primitive state. They are wholly unacquainted with metals and make their weapons of stone, bones and wood. They do not know how to start a fire, though fire is used among them. When a Russian asked them how they made a fire, they regarded it as very amusing and answered that when a person's fire went out he got some of a neighbor, and if all the fires in the village should go out they would get it from the next village. Their fathers and grandfathers had told them that they remembered a time or had heard from their ancestors that there was a time when fire was not known and everything was eaten raw.

A Too Common Attitude.
A small girl who had just begun to attend school brought home a pumpkin seed and told her mother that the teacher said that, although the seed was white, the pumpkin would be yellow.

"And what will the color of the vines be?" asked the mother. The little girl replied that the teacher had not taught her that.

"But," said her mother, "you know, dear, for we have pumpkin vines in our garden."

"Of course I do, but we ain't expected to know anything until we are taught."

First Ohio Canal.
The construction of canals was begun in 1825, and by 1832 400 miles of navigable canals were completed. The opening of the first Ohio canal was accomplished July 4, 1827. On that day the first boat descended from Akron to Cleveland. She was cheered on her passage by thousands of people, who assembled from the adjacent country to witness the novel and interesting sight.

A man can never become a true gentleman in manner until he has become a true gentleman at heart.—Dickens.

A VIVID TESTIMONY

To the Harmony That Prevails in Republican Ranks.

Indianapolis, Dec. 29.—Senator Fairbanks will not be home until the first of next week unless he changes his plans. Albert W. Wishard, solicitor of the internal revenue department, who is here spending the holidays, says the senator did not intend to get here until one or two days before the session began, as there was no occasion for his presence. He has been spending the holidays quietly with members of his family in Washington. The fact that there is no contest for the United States senatorship is a vivid testimony that harmony prevails among the Republican leaders in the state. If it were not so the chances are that a bitter fight might be on for his seat, although it is conceded that he has a strong organization among the leading politicians. The senator this time will not even have to ask for another term. The members are unanimously in favor of giving it to him, so it is a true instance of where everything is done but the shouting. The senator, it is understood, intends to be here the day of his re-election, but immediately afterward he will return to Washington to resume his duties there.

There will be some new faces at the statehouse this week. Charles W. Miller of Goshen will succeed W. L. Taylor as attorney general New Year's day. Taylor retires with a fine record after four years' service. Merrill Moores and C. C. Hadley, who have been his principal deputies, will also retire and be succeeded by L. G. Rothchild of Indianapolis and William Geake of Fort Wayne. Union Banner Hunt, secretary of state for the last four years, will retire New Year's day in favor of Daniel E. Storms of Lafayette, and his chief deputy, Richard Garrell, will be succeeded by Frank I. Grubbs of Lafayette. Nat U. Hill of Bloomington succeeds Leopold Levy as treasurer of state about the middle of January, and David E. Sherrick will succeed Auditor W. H. Hart the middle of February. Frank Martin, principal deputy under Auditor Hart, will leave the state service for the treasurer's office of a trust company here.

The annual meeting of the Indiana State Teachers' association began today at the statehouse and Masonic hall. All the trains brought delegations, and by tonight it is expected there will be several hundred in attendance. A program of unusual merit has been arranged. Senator Beveridge will make the principal annual address tonight, and it is expected that he will be greeted by a large and enthusiastic audience. All the prominent educators of the state are coming for the meeting. It is likely that some legislative matters will be discussed, as the teachers have a number of matters on which they desire legislative sanction. The county and city superintendents and the township trustees, it is understood, will have their legislative committees here during the meeting of the teachers.

There is a rumor among state politicians that John Billheimer of Washington, D. C., is to be chief deputy state auditor under David E. Sherrick. Billheimer, who was consul to Zanzibar a few years ago, it is said has been offered the place, providing Warren Bigler of Wabash does not accept it. Bigler, it is understood, has about made up his mind that he does not care for the place. This is the best deputyship in the state service, as it pays a salary of $2,500 in addition to $1,000 allowed for services as secretary of the tax board. Billheimer is a member of the state committee from the Second district and it is a well-known politician. He has always been a warm personal friend of Sherrick's.

Frank Richmond, financial clerk of the Indianapolis postoffice, has been notified of the appointment of nearly fifty new rural mail carriers. He is paymaster for all the rural carriers of the state, all the Indianapolis postal employees and the mail clerks of the central division. Each month he handles a big heap of gold, as Uncle Sam pays many of his obligations in gold. Richmond says that there are now nearly 1,600 rural carriers in Indiana alone. The rural mail system is being rapidly extended, and after the next appropriation is made by congress it is likely that Indiana will get at least 500 more carriers. The service has worked a great change in several lines of business.

Remorse Drove Him to It.
Youngstown, Ohio, Dec. 29.—Harry Jackson, foreman of the cable department of the Republic Iron and Steel company, committed suicide by drinking carbolic acid in the Hotel Majestic Sunday. He was an expert electrician and formerly lived in Philadelphia. The only motive for the deed was the killing of an intimate friend in a row on Christmas day and Jackson's declaration that "he would soon follow him."

Old Soldier's Desperate Act.
Florence, Ala., Dec. 29.—Calvin Carson, an old Confederate soldier, driven to desperation by want, with his granddaughter, a helpless cripple dependent on him, gave the girl carbolic acid and cut his own throat Sunday. The girl had been a cripple from birth and was twenty-one years old. When found by another tenant of the house she was dead. The man is dangerously wounded but he may recover.

Benton county employed more farm hands (1,783) than any other county and paid higher wages, the average being $19 a month. In Owen county the average was lowest, being $13.02 a month. The average for Tippecanoe was $18.75; for Warren, $18.13, and for Tipton, $18.12. Rush county employed 1,693 farm hands and paid this year wages averaging $16.07 a month.

The township assessors are not always careful in obtaining the information, and the State Statistician is debating in his own mind whether he shall publish the showing in his annual report.

A Million Voices.

Could hardly express the thanks of Homer Hall, of West Point, Ia., listen why: A severe cold has settled on his lungs, causing a most obstinate cough. Several physicians said he had consumption, but could not help him. When all thought he was doomed he began to use Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and writes—"it completely cured me and saved my life. I now weigh 227 lbs." It's positively guaranteed for coughs, colds and lung troubles. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at W. F. Peter Drug Co.

Sheep Killin' Dogs.

In one township over in Monroe county the sheep killin' dogs have just about cleaned up all the sheep the farmers had on hand. Nearly every farmer who has owned sheep during the year has lost them on account of dogs. The township trustee has paid out of the dog fund until he is now $800 behind and is giving warrants to parties who have sheep killed to draw 6 per cent. interest, and payable in the next ten years. One farmer has bought a gun and announces his intention of killing every dog that visits his place, whether he is a sheep killing dog or not.

Deafness Cannot be Cured.

By local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When the tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; none cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Sent for circulars free.

THE AMERICAN MONTHLY REVIEW OF REVIEWS

How Can I Keep Up with the Times?

It is pretty hard to keep well informed on the political news, the scientific news, the literary news, the educational movements, the great business developments, the hundreds of interesting and valuable articles in the hundreds of excellent magazines. About the only way it can be done by the average busy man and woman is to read a magazine like "The Review of Reviews," and, as it is the only magazine of the sort, it is a good thing to send $2.50 for a year's subscription.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT says:
"I know that through his columns views have been presented to me that I could not otherwise have had access to; because all earnest and thoughtful men, no matter how widely their ideas diverge, are given free utterance in its columns."

EX-PRESIDENT GROVER CLEVELAND says:
"I consider it a very valuable addition to my library."
